

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

New Director of Operations Hired to Oversee Enterprise Excellence Initiative

Durham, Connecticut – August 2007 – Technical Manufacturing Corporation announced this month that it has filled the position of Director of Operations with Anthony Calabrese. Mr. Calabrese is directly responsible for identifying, implementing and ensuring the effectiveness of best practice programs throughout the company in response to the company's recent Enterprise Excellence Initiative. The Enterprise Excellence Initiative is a strategic paradigm shift in the company that requires the process engineering review of all functional areas in order to provide customers with the best contract electronics manufacturing services possible. Mr. Calabrese will report directly to senior management.

Mr. Calabrese has enjoyed a varied twenty-year manufacturing career that has spanned all functional levels over several major organizations. With a Master Degree in both Computer Science and Business Administration, Mr. Calabrese has worked on a consulting basis with companies including Applied Magnetics in Santa, Barbara, California, Horsburgh & Scott Company in Cleveland, Ohio, Litton-Veam in Watertown, Connecticut and Reflexite Corporation in Avon, Connecticut among several other companies throughout the country. The Director of Operations position will allow Mr. Calabrese to direct all of his manufacturing experience and expertise towards the successful realization of the company's Enterprise Excellence Initiative.
